FRANCE SEES WAR LOOM WITH JAPAN AND U.S.

BRITISH ARE AGHAST OVER FRENCH PACT WITH KEMAL

O'Connor Raises Question In House Urging Probe Of The Treaty

CHRISTIAN STATUS

No Guarantee Of Safety, He Says, Chamberlain Deprecates Debate

(French Wireless Through Reuter)

Paris, Nov. 7.—The last detachment of French prisoners freed by the Kemalist Government has arrived at Beirut. The French authorities have also released all Kemalist prisoners and the exchange is now complete.

NEW CAUSE OF ALARM
(Reuter's Service)

London, Nov. 8.—A new element of some gravity has been imported into the controversy over the Franco-Kemalist Agreement by the disclosure of the existence of at least one secret annexe, which relates to the officering of the Turkish Gendarmerie, numbering 50,000.

This is the only armed force permitted under the Treaty of Sevres, which laid down that each interested power should supply a quota of the officers.

LANGUAGE IS FIRM
(Reuter's Service)

London, Nov. 7.—The question of the Franco-Kemalist agreement was raised in the House of Commons today by Mr. T. P. O'Connor who urged discussion of the Treaty, which had aroused apprehension in Britain especially in view of the absence of guarantees for the safety of the lives of Christians.

Mr. Austen Chamberlain deprecated a debate before the Anglo-French discussions were concluded. He said that the Government were fully alive to the considerations mentioned by Mr. O'Connor.

Earl Winterton asked for a statement on the position of Britain in the Near East. He declared that there was anxiety in the House of Commons with regard to the military danger to the British position in Mesopotamia, if the agreement was as alleged.

Mr. Austen Chamberlain promised to enquire of the Foreign Secretary whether such a statement would be to the public interest at present.

Replying to Mr. O'Connor, Mr. Austen Chamberlain said the purpose of the Government with regard to the liberation of Christians under Turkish rule was unchanged though whether it had capacity to fulfil it might be a more open question.

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, Nov. 7.—Count de Saint Aulaire, the French Ambassador in London, has brought to Paris the British memorandum on the subject of the Franco-Kemalist Agreement, which is a document of eight pages.

Though couched in firm language, it contains nothing likely seriously to disturb the diplomatic conversations to which it will lead.

The main British objection is that the Angora agreement detracts from the influence and authority of France in the settlement of the Near Eastern question at the very time when Britain desires to achieve a peace between Greece and Turkey in accord with France.

Mt. Everest Party Accomplishes Its Preliminary Labor

(Reuter's Service)

London, Nov. 8.—The President of the Royal Geographical Society announces that this year's Mount Everest Expedition, after persistent probing, has accomplished its object, having reached the point from which it is confidently believed that a practicable way to the summit will be found next year.

It is expected that a reorganised expedition of seven persons able to stand the terrific blizzards and cold weather will start on the real tussle involved in the final ascent in May.

Old Bill, The Hawk And Shenkoland Are Picked As Winners Of the Champions

Maresfield And The Oriole; Also Are Contenders Others May Upset Expectations

Old Bill, The Hawk and Shenkoland will win the Champions Sweepstakes today in the order given, according to the opinion expressed by the membership of the Shanghai Race Club at the selling lotteries last night. At the same time Maresfield and The Oriole are regarded as wholly possible winners of the big event of the fall meeting and besides these two, outsiders held to have a fair chance to place in the big race, and may upset expectations and win, include Thomas A'Becket and Pennyfield.

A possibility exists that besides The Hawk and The Oriole a third Winsome and Hasty pony that has qualified in the first two days may be entered, The Peacock, and it is to be added that in the view of many followers of the races The Peacock if entered would stand better than a fair chance to win the big race.

In the bidding on the ponies at the Race Club last night Old Bill was given first place by only a scant margin, as the choice of those best informed is about evenly divided between Old Bill and The Hawk. Mr. William Hill will ride the Hawk in the Champions today and Mr. Springfield will be up on Old Bill.

Among the top notch ponies that thus far have failed to qualify for The Champions and will today have a final opportunity to win races are Tyneside, Triumph, Invincible King, King's Cross, Lichfield, Empire Dahlia and The Copper Bird.

A GREAT RACE

Unquestionably one of the greatest races ever seen in Shanghai was the Chinese Cup and Shanghai Stakes, the main event of yesterday's program in which the gallant pony of Messrs. H. E. Campbell and Exley Cummings, Old Bill, was piloted to a hard fought victory by Mr. Springfield. The race was fought out in the home stretch under the eyes of the big throng by Old Bill, the Winsome and Hasty pony The Oriole with Mr. Hill up and Belinda's bay Tyneside, which was ridden by Mr. Brand.

Old Bill had held the lead into the final turn with the field running packed closely together. The Oriole then went into first place, holding it into the final stretch when Tyneside forged into first place. All the time the leaders were running with scarely a length between them with the field following like a bunch of grapes. It was in a spurt that proved the heart and real mettle of the great little bay pony, and the skill of the rider as well, that Old Bill went into the lead by a head in the final quarter and held it grimly into the finish with the Oriole finishing in second place and Tyneside third. It was a great race and with the wind in the faces of ponies and riders the last quarter was done in remarkable time.

It is worth mentioning that in this meeting Old Bill is showing form similar to that he showed in the preceding meeting, failing to get more than a place on the opening day and qualifying in a most difficult contest on the second for the Champions. Yesterday's victory sets aside all gossip questioning Old Bill's form for today's big race and places him as a favorite for the event.

NO BIG DIVIDENDS

Again yesterday the favorites ran to form and this is to be gathered from the fact that not a single dividend of the day touched the $100 mark. The biggest payment, in fact, as happened on the first day, came in the first race, and was paid for win on Pennyfield, ridden by Mr. Heard, amounting to $70.40. Fighting King, which was ridden by Mr. Hill was the long favorite in this race, but it failed to place, as Victoria, ridden by Mr. Bauld, and The Greyhound, ridden by Mr. Harper, finished second and third.

One of the wholly thrilling events of the day was furnished in the contest of the veteran ponies in the seventh race, The Racing Stakes, in which Thomas a Becket, piloted by Mr. A. N. Dallas, galloped in winner ahead of Golden Knob and Invincible King. Invincible King was the long favorite with Lichfield as second choice and no little sur-

SOVIET ASKS POLES PLEASE EXCUSE STEPS OVER BORDER

Invasion Of Galicia Due To Zeal In Pursuit Of White Raiders

(Trans-Pacific Public Ledger—China Press Exclusive Service)

Warsaw, Nov. 7.—Polish leaders now assert that Soviet troops have invaded Poland, capturing the town of Huslatyn in Eastern Galicia. The Russian Legation denies this, saying that Russia has no intention to violate Polish soil, but that if Soviet troops have crossed the line it was an accident in connection with the fighting against Petlura, a noted "white" leader.

The Russians promise to investigate and will make immediate withdrawal. The legation declared there was no possibility of a Russian-Polish clash even if the Russian reprisals for the alleged Polish help to White forces should take the form of further delaying payments of gold and art treasures promised in Riga treaty.

Polish demobilisation has been carried so far that active hostilities are unlikely.

RUSSIA RESERVES ACTION
(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, Nov. 7.—The Times correspondent learns that Tchitcherin on November 2 addressed a note to the Great Powers protesting against the exclusion of the Bolshevik representatives from the Washington Conference. He declared that Russia reserved complete freedom of action with regard to the decisions of the Conference.

THE cruiser Olympia, which was the flagship of Admiral George Dewey in the Battle of Manila Bay, has brought to the United States the body of the American "unknown soldier," who is to be buried, with full military honors and great ceremony, at the National Cemetery at Arlington on November 11, the third anniversary of the armistice.

WASHINGTON IS SHOCKED; HAS ITS TRAGEDIES

BY FREDERICK WILLIAM WILE
(Trans-Pacific Public Ledger—China Press Exclusive Service)

Washington, Nov. 6.—Washington is profoundly shocked over the news of the assassination of Premier Hara. Expressions of sympathy were uttered by President Harding and Secretary Hughes and officials everywhere encountered. This nation which has had three presidents die martyrs at the hands of political fanatics feels deeply and sincerely for a sister people.

As in the case of Lincoln who was laid low in the hours when his services were almost indispensible, so Hara fell at a moment where the liberal principles he stood for are of vital importance to his nation.

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, Nov. 7.—President Millerand has wired to the Japanese Emperor his heartfelt regrets at Mr. Hara's assassination.

SAIONJI GOES TO CONFER
(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, November 8.—Marquis Saionji proceeded to Odawara this morning to confer with Prince Yamagata.

PREMIER IN DOUBT
(Eastern News Agency)

Tokio, Nov. 7.—Whether or not Prince Saionji will really come into power again has become the target for public attention. But owing to the fact that the old statesman has not yet unbosomed his mind to anyone there is no means at present of knowing his real intention.

Judging, however, from political conditions it seems improbable that he will accept the Premiership on account of his advanced age, though it is true that at yesterday's conference of the "Old Statesmen" at the residence of Marquis Matsukata, Prince Saionji was urged to take office.

Meanwhile, the Seiyukai Party yesterday held a committee meeting at the residence of the Minister of the Home Department, when it was decided unanimously to petition Prince Saionji to come out of his retirement.

As for the Prince, it is now reported that he has given instructions through one of the Cabinet Ministers to the Seiyukai Party, urging it to rectify the formation and to pluck up courage to face any emergency by its own power and at the same time expressing himself to the effect that if political disturbances should be created as a consequence of the assassination of the late Premier, the constitutional government of Japan would be thrown into the darkness to the great detriment to the prospect of the country and that he is too much advanced in years to be equal to the occasion.

On the other hand, the Opposition is of opinion, it is said, that to avail itself of the recent disaster in order to undermine the present Cabinet is the most

Today's The Day Of The Champions And High Hopes

By Elsie McCormick

Serious race rioting has broken out in Shanghai.

In case you don't believe it, you are cordially invited to hazard a survey at the crowd in the Pari-Mutuel room just five minutes before the starting-bell. If the scene doesn't qualify as a riot, then the physical exercises of a stevedore strike resemble an orphan asylum going out to pick daisies.

We ought to know, because we were out there yesterday and if the lady ahead of us didn't have elbows as pointed as a Bernard Shaw pun, we would be riding in our own ricsha today. By the time we had unimpaled ourself from her funny bone, the starting-bell had rung. We have often heard of horses that won by a neck, but we never before knew of a person who lost by an elbow.

If somebody could be stationed at the door of the Pari-Mutuel apartments to demand from each person how he picked his horse, there would be as many different kinds of answers as there are alibis in the Mixed Court. At home, horses are usually chosen on points. But in China, where the ponies used in racing originated on the plains of Tartary, one can predict a horse's speed by looking at him about as well as a person could tell by glancing at a girl whether or not she can make a good Welsh rarebit.

UPSET ALL DOPE

Mongolian horses consistently upset all the best "dope" of turfmen from home and the result is that the race followers of Shanghai are guided in their betting by everything from astrology to the color of the jockey's uniform. Past performances have a certain influence with the Pari-Mutuel addicts, but the frequent surprises offered by the hitherto socially obscure make even records of little assistance in contributing to the price of a new winter overcoat.

We know one man who never picks a dark horse unless it's white. It happens that the French cavalry in 1853 and the foreign troops involved in the Boxer uprising sold their horses to Chinese after the cessation of their business engagement. Thus some of the Mongolian ponies have traces of Arabian blood and according to our informant, such horses are usually white. Shanghai race course records, he says, show a high proportion of white winners.

HOW SOME PICK THEM

Many of those who follow the trail around the numbered counter are guided by the jockey's record rather than by that of the horse. Women usually choose a pony because they like its name, or because they met the owner's sister-in-law at bridge once, or because the jockey is wearing such a cute cerise jacket.

It might be added that they seem to pick as many winners by this system as do those who watch the ponies as they are being led out of the stable, take into account the shape of the hoofs, the condition of the track, and the jockey's weight, and then figure up the probable winner by a system of differential calculus.

Racing has been popular in Shanghai since the days when the Bund was a tow-path, but its early [illegible] comparable to the saddleless races which the younger generation stage around the barn for a week or two after the circus goes away. The kind of ponies entered can be judged from the fact that in 1852 there was a man and horse race, fifty yards there and back, and the man won.

OLD STAND NOT SO GRAND

Further difficulties were offered by the existence of a village in the middle of the Race Course. The Grand Stand, according to a Shanghai historian, was grand only by courtesy, and the entire racing schedule was postponed on one occasion because of a mail going out.

Since then the history of the Race Course has been featured by the usual tangle of superstitions, queer streaks of luck, and fortunes made to the beat of hoofs in the passing of a few seconds. There have been, too, the usual proportion of losses, but as the Pari-Mutuel system makes heavy bets impossible, the Race Course has no Monte Carlo cemetery attached.

The only tragedy that ever occurred during a race-meeting was the death crash of the young French aviator, Vallon, whose airplane smashed to earth just before the grandstand at a spring meet ten years ago.

SERVANTS WIN ONE

Perhaps the most interesting of the Sweepstake winners were the boy, cook and amah who went into partnership on a ticket only a few seasons ago and won a mandate over the number one prize. Uneasy lies the Chinese head that wins a Sweepstake, however, for the trio were hailed into court by half a dozen other servants who claimed to have contributed to the magic number, to say nothing of being harried by every blackmailer able to put a brush to paper. The Chinese shroff of a local moving-picture theater who won $40,000 last year, reported for work the day after the winner was announced and has toiled on cheerfully since for his usual $20 a month.

Several years ago, the second prize remained unclaimed until two weeks after the races, when a foreigner out golfing discovered some sweep-stake tickets in his pocket and started to tear them up. A friend who asked to look at the numbers found that one of the forgotten papers had a cash value of something over $20,000. The first prize at the Hongkong races a few years ago never had a claimant, the owner of the

AMERICA MUST TAKE MIDDLE GROUND WITH NIPPON NOW IS OPINION

Japanese Will Insist On Holding Part Of "Status Quo" In China Even If She Is Compelled To Hand Shantung Back To Suzereignty Of The Chinese People Is French View

MUST HOLD SOME OF HER GAINS

Nipponese Will Balk If Railway Advantages Are Stripped Away Despite Her Feeble Condition For Any Long Sustained War Against U. S.

BY WYTHE WILLIAMS
(Trans-Pacific Public Ledger—China Press Exclusive Service)

PARIS, November 7.—America must take a middle ground at the conference and not insist on too great an abandonment by Japan of her status quo in China or war will be imminent. This is the opinion of French politicians who claim to know that the French Delegation is going to Washington firm in the belief that the policy of France need not contemplate any choice that is not based on the serious danger of war between Japan and America.

In the first place they do not believe that Japan is able to stand a long war either in an economic or military sense and they say they also believe that Japan is bent on pursuing peaceful penetration of China by gradually abandoning the strong arm methods of a few years ago.

But the French also believe status quo in China to be disturbed to the extent of yielding all their possessions there even though they may be forced out of Shantung.

All therefore depends on America and the extent whereto America insists that Japan abandon all gains especially railway concessions. If America insists to the full limit, the French believe, then war between Japan and America will become an imminent danger.

However, France expects that a policy of compromise will prevail and that both sides will give and take so that the attitude of the French Delegation to the Conference will be to take a middle ground position between Japan and America.

TOKIO SEES NO CHANGE IN THE SHANTUNG NOTE

(Eastern News Agency)

Tokio, Nov. 7.—Commenting on China's second reply regarding Shantung the "Jiji" of today writes in the main to the following effect:—

"The second reply forwarded by the Chinese Government to the Japanese Government in connection with the Shantung question has, it will be perceived, some points on which wording is somewhat ameliorated, but its general purport remains exactly the same as before.

"That the Chinese Government argues that if the Bay of Kiaochow be completely restored to China, it will not adhere to the point at issue regarding the time when the leasehold of Germany in Shantung became extinct must be interpreted that the Chinese Government has admitted the unreasonableness of the fundamental principle on which it makes opposition to Japan's offer for opening direct negotiations.

USUAL OBJECTIONS

"If such is the case, there can be no alternative for China but to recognise the necessity of stipulating due conditions with Japan should the former wish to have the Bay of Kiaochow returned by the latter. With regard to the question of joint control of the Shantung Railway, although the Chinese Government contends that Japan had no need to occupy the railway by military force, the fact distinctly remains that during the Tsingtao campaign the German troops made use of the Kiaochow Railway, by which the Germans transported military stores, effected communications with Peking, Tientsin and various other quarters and carried to Tsingtao a good number of German soldiers.

"Taking the above fact into consideration the occupation of the railways by the Japanese troops should naturally be looked upon as proper and just in order to accelerate the surrender of the enemy. More than this, to continue the siege of the fort at Tsingtao, it will be understood, there was need to utilise the greater part of the railway with the object of maintaining connection with the posts and communication stations in the rear.

Dollar's Ring Says Critic Of Harding Stopped Bonus Law

(U. S. Navy Radio through Reuter)

Washington, Nov. 6.—Senator Stanley of Kentucky today assailed President Harding for his having recommitted the soldiers bonus. He declared:

"The only thing that could have made President Harding turn his back on four million ex-service men was the silent insidious mammon ring of the dollar."

(Trans-Pacific Public Ledger—China Press Exclusive Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Following semi-official Japanese statements that the Japanese prefer to discuss disarmament first in the Conference, the Administration unofficially but conclusively indicates that it holds a similar view, wherefore it is now believed that whatever may become of other topics, disarmament at least will be fully discussed if not decided upon before political issues are taken up.

The American attitude throughout the Conference will be based upon the principle that it will not permit the fact that disarmament is not only the ultimate but the primary purpose of the Conference to be obscured.

Replying to criticism evoked here by the reports that the Conference would have few open sessions, the Spokesman for the American Delegation repeated today that America will insist on the fullest possible publicity.

The plans include numerous public sessions as well as definite statements from all the powers giving their attitude on the major subjects. This Spokesman says that the American press will be surprised at the broad scope of publicity which will accompany the sessions of the Conference.

JAPAN IN SYMPATHY
(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, Nov. 8.—The resolution passed by representatives of American colleges who met at Princeton on October 26, urging the importance of armament limitation and the necessity for amicable discussions among the assembled nations, has evoked hearty sympathy from student leaders in Japan who say that because Japan is geographically isolated there have not been similar demonstrations here, but college debates held on the questions of the Conference prove that a real interest exists in such problems.

The Jiji declares that whoever succeeds to the Premiership there will be no change in Japan's policy at the Conference, the stability of which is additionally guaranteed by the presence of competent leaders like Prince Tokusawa and Admiral Baron Kato at the Conference discussions.

WANT TRIPLE AGREEMENT

Tokio, Nov. 8.—The Asahi endorses Prince Tokugawa's reported statement at Washington favoring an Anglo-American-Japanese agreement in any form, which, it is understood in authoritative circles, forms part of the instructions of the Government to the delegation.

The paper believes that the Government is ready to sacrifice the Anglo-Japanese Alliance if it should be necessary, to attain the fundamental object of the Conference, which is little different to the aim of the Alliance.

FRENCH PARTY ARRIVES

(Reuter's Service)

New York, Nov. 7.—The liner, Lafayette, arrived today. The Mayor's Welcome Committee boarded the ship and greeted the French Delegation to the Washington Conference, who will proceed direct to Washington after a short rest at an hotel.

NO RUSSIAN DELEGATES

Washington, Nov. 7.—Russia will be the only interested State not represented at the Washington Conference as the State Department has not received any intimation from the Constitutional Russians, residing in Paris, desiring representation.

Officials of the Russian Embassy in Washington, which is still of a quasi-official character, confirm the view of conservative Russians who have decided to leave Russian interests in the Far East to the Conference, which will discuss the problem.

The Anti-Soviet factions approve Mr. Hughes's statement with regard to the Chita Government, favoring the maintenance of Russian integrity in the absence of a recognised government.

FRENCH PREMIER SPEAKS

New York, Nov. 7.—M. Briand was welcomed by representatives of the Government and M. Jusserand, the French Ambassador, and received an ovation from the crowd.

The French Premier issued a message to the American people in which he declared that France was ready to join every endeavor to avert a new war providing she feared nothing for her own security. France approached the Conference in a very favorable spirit because she had suffered most in the war. It is understood that M. Briand favors equal trade opportunities in China.

PRESENTS HER PETITION

Washington, Nov. 7.—An aged Japanese woman, Mme. Kaji Kajima, President of the Japanese Women's Christain Temperance Union, today presented to President Harding a memorial, signed by ten thousand of her countrymen, praying for the success of the Conference.

SHIBUSAWA EARNEST

New York, Nov. 7.—Viscount Shibusawa, addressing a Sunday School class, said he would do anything he could to assist in the great work at the Washington Conference.

"When England, America and Japan can become the same sort of friends as individuals of those countries are friends, then we may hope for peace."

GREATLY DESIRE PEACE

Washington, Nov. 7.—A statement, signed by Viscount Shibusawa says the Japanese fully realise the significance to the Conference and its bearing upon peace and progress, not only in the Pacific but in the whole world.

"They are convinced that the future of their national advancement lies entirely along commercial and industrial lines. Our people yield to none in the intensity of their desire for peace which alone makes economic development possible. They feel no less keenly than any other nation the crushing weight which armament imposes on them and they are therefore heartily sympathetic with the high ideals of peace and international goodwill, which your distinguished President had in view when he issued invitations to the Conference."

H.C.L. DROPS FRACTION

(U. S. Navy Radio through Reuter)

Chicago, Nov. 6.—The average wholesale price has reached the level prevailing in 1914. The Institute of American Packers say that the average wholesale price which was then 12 cents now ranges between 11½ and 13.

abominable from the viewpoint of humanity and politics, and as it is desirous of saving the situation by preserving the present Cabinet, it may safely be said that there will be no political disturbances for the present.

Thoughtful as he is, the Prince apparently has no intention to make up his mind definitely, until he has ferretted out sentiments in various quarters. This morning, he had a visit from Marquis Matsukata and sat in conference for a short time. At 11 p.m. these two "Old Statesmen" proceeded to the Imperial Palace, where, after paying their respects to the Emperor, they held a conference with Count Makino, Minister of the Imperial Household.

CABINET MEETS

(Eastern News Agency)

Tokio, Nov. 7.—At 10 a.m. today, the first session of the Cabinet council was opened at the residence of the Acting Premier, Count Uchida, to discuss the budget for the next fiscal years. The session was attended by all the Cabinet Ministers and Mr. Takahashi, Minister of Finance made a statement about the outline of the budget. At 12 noon, they attended the funeral ceremony of the late Mr. Hara and at 4 p.m. they reopened the session.

ASSASSIN ARRAIGNED

(Eastern News Agency)

Tokio, Nov. 7.—Konichi Nakaoka who assassinated the late Premier, Mr. Hara, was sent this evening from the Metropolitan Police Board to the Tokio Local Court. Eigoro Hashimoto, assistant station-master of Otsuka Station, has also been prosecuted as an instigator to the assassin and is now under trial at the local court in question. It is expected that they will both be imprisoned tonight.

ENVOY SORROWFUL

(Eastern News Agency)

Tokio, Nov. 6.—U. S. Ambassador Charles Beecher Warren today issued the following statement regarding the assassination of Premier Hara:

"The assassination of Premier Hara constitutes a great loss to the Japanese people and an almost irreparable loss to the world situation of the present day. During the brief time that I have been in Japan, I have been greatly impressed by Premier Hara's ability, breadth of vision, and far-seeing attitude toward the questions which are occupying the attention of the world.

"He has been of the greatest service to the Japanese nation, but had his life been spared he was destined to be of still greater service not only to Japan but to the whole world.

"The world's confidence in Hara had been growing daily. Fortunately, the nation has a great number of ably trained statesmen to direct the course of the government during this troubled period."

POLITICS AT BOTTOM

(Eastern News Agency)

Tokio, Nov. 7.—Referring to the assassination of the late Mr. Hara the "Yomiuri" of today's date writes as follows: "Judging from the words which the late Premier uttered at the moment when he met with the assassination, it would seem that the cause was of a political nature after all.

"Notwithstanding the fact that the assassin was nothing but a narrowminded nationalist and had no connection with any political party, he appears to have been adequately imbued with the political and social thought. Moreover, the recent various scandals such as the opium case brought against the South Manchuria Railway and the case against the Tokio Gas Company have, it is suspected, compelled the sentimental young man to resort to his final extraordinary measure. If it were true, the late Premier, Mr. Hara has, it may fairly be said, fallen victim to the thought of the age that has of late come to be shaky and disorderly in Japan."

The Tokio "Nichi Nichi" argues: "Though the conference of the Old Statesmen may be permissible only on such an extraordinary occasion as the present, it is most objectionable that a new Cabinet should be formed only by militarists and bureaucratists.

The fact that the late Mr. Hara in his testament stated that only two words, Takashi Hara, should be engraved on his tomb is to be ascribed to his fervent love for his being but a commoner all his life. Furthermore, that he announced during his life that his Cabinet should never be undermined by plots or other dastardly intrigues may be considered on the one hand as a declaration of war against militarists and bureaucratists and on the other hand as an indication of his real intention to surrender his Cabinet to a succeeding Ministry in conformity with the grand principle of constitutional government.

"At this juncture, the intelligent members of the Seiyukai Party should observe the wishes of the late President, Mr. Hara and fulfil their responsibility by following the track of constitutional."

DONT CONVENE IT SAYS WU PEI-FU OF PARLIAMENT

(China Press Correspondence)

Peking, Nov. 5.—General Wu Pei-fu is reported to have answered in the negative a question addressed him by the Premier in regard to the advisability of convening the third Parliament. His opposition to the convocation of the assembly at this time is based on the fact that the presence of the representatives in session in Peking at the very moment when Dr. Sun Yat-sen is sending a punitive expedition against the Government would have the effect of strengthening the Cantonese movement by justifying its separation from the North. The expression of his views means that there is a very decided difference of opinion among the three inspecting generals of the North, Generals Wu, Tsao Kun, and Chang Tso-lin, all of whom have been asked for their opinions by the premier.

Information emanating from the Presidential palace reports that the reply of Wu Pei-fu, which was communicated to the president by General Tsao, is very much opposed to the immediate calling together of parliament and contained the request that Tsao Kun should not allow the impression to get abroad that the Chihli faction is in favor of it.

A number of reasons were advanced for this stand largely based on the inopportuneness of the present moment because of Cantonese activities. The general evidently feels that if parliament were convened it would have the effect of adding fuel to the Southern fire and would make even more impossible than they are now the chances for the unification of South and North. He consequently advises the Government to be very cautious before taking such a step.

Members of the third parliament who are in Peking and who were very confident of immediate convocation are reported to be very discouraged as a result of General Wu's attitude. The promises of the premier caused them to believe that they would soon be in legislative session. They have consequently despatched representatives to Hankow to see Wu Pei-fu and if possible urge him to reconsider his position and raise no further opposition to the Parliament.

REMBRANDTS TO GRACE GALLERY OF A JAPANESE

(Trans-Pacific Public Ledger—China Press Exclusive Service)

London, Nov. 7.—Kojiro Matsukata, head of the Kawasaki Dockyard, has purchased Yen 10,000,000 worth of art treasures for a gallery which he intends to open in Tokio. This includes two Rembrandts and several pieces of Rodin's sculpture, together with some famous tapestries.

Storm Clouds On Horizon; Ll. George To Stand Or Fall

U. S. Navy Radio through Reuter

London, Nov. 6.—The Sunday papers agree almost unanimously that storm clouds are looming on the British political horizon, in the form of the threatening Irish peace negotiations and whether they will break or not, which depends on Ulster's attitude. The News of the World says:

"If Mr. Lloyd George fails to bring about a satisfactory settlement he will resign."

Charge Woman With Murder Of Her 11 Year Old Grandson

Charges that an 11-year-old boy was beaten to death by his grandmother at the Ewo Cotton Mill, 46 Yangtszepoo Road, were made at an inquest held yesterday before Assessor Hutchison and Magistrate Li at the Mortuary, and it was indicated that the woman will be charged with murder.

According to the testimony of witnesses, the lad and his grandparent worked together at the mill. The boy went to the lavatory last Saturday evening and on his return the grandmother abused and then assaulted him for being away so long. Other mill employes tried to make her desist but could not until the lad was in a dying condition. He was taken to the Chinese Industrial Hospital on Yangtszepoo Road and a doctor there stated that there was no hope of saving his life and sent him away. He died in a ricsha while on the way to his grandmother's home.

The inquest was adjourned until Friday, the Assessor ordering a post mortem examination to be made and asking for the appearance of other witnesses of the assault.

Today's The Day Of The Champions And High Hopes

ticket having either lost it or forgotten an investment.

Another variation of the Sweepstake program occurred in Shanghai once when the champion race ended in a triple dead heat and the first prize was divided accordingly.

BOY! CATCH BUTTERFLY!

Many and strange are the superstitions that take up their lodgings at the Race Course. The lad this year and last has been to share a ticket with an amah, the ladies with black coils and nearjade earrings being looked upon as bearers of good fortune. A Chinese compradore who placed his ticket under a statue of the Buddha and then won $18,000 has his foreign counterpart in the jockey who caught a butterfly as a mascot, rode the winning horse in the Champion Sweeps, and then had the butterfly put under glass as a perpetual bringer of luck.

Perhaps the most trying phase of racing is the possibility of coming near enough to a small fortune to hear the rustle of her bank-note skirt and the jingle of her gold coin earrings, only to be passed by without so much as a nod. Only before yesterday a lady returned a cash sweeps ticket when she discovered that it cost ten dollars instead of five, and four minutes later the same ticket won $7,500.

Race meets, it is true, serve sometimes as effective banting for overweight bank-accounts and their emaciating action on bank accounts not so overweight open the door to a certain amount of legitimate criticism.

During the time that elapses between the buying of a sweeps ticket and the sad posting of the numbers, however, several thousand people are given the opportunity of spending over $200,000. The spending, to be sure, takes place in the vague and vapory country of happy intentions, but at least that type of spending produces no headaches on the morning after.

As for the Pari-Mutuel, we can't understand how it got its name. Thus far we've failed to discover anything mutual about it.

TRAINS NOW RUN WUCHANG SOUTH

(China Press Correspondence)

Hankow, Nov. 3.—The first through train on the Canton-Hankow Railway from Wuchang to Changsha, which was down at last summer during the turmoils of the Hupeh-Hunan war, was sent from the Wuchang end on the morning of November 1, and a telegram was subsequently received from the Changsha railway station announcing its safe arrival at the capital of Hunan.

This is the first indication of conditions settling down in the central provinces, which has been in continual agitation and disturbance until very recently. It is expected that a normal train service will soon be restored. Through booking on the Wuchang-Changsha section has now been resumed.

Mr. A. G. Cox, Chief Engineer of the Canton-Hankow Railway interviewed Wu Pei-fu yesterday with the request that effective measures be taken by Chinese authorities of Hupeh and Hunan to insure favorable conditions for the running of the Wuchang-Changsha service and for the construction of the proposed new section on the Canton-Hankow line. Wu Pei-fu is said to have replied courteously, assuring Mr Cox that the provinces of Hupeh and Hunan now under his protection would not be engulfed in future strifes.

In an interview this morning with a party of American naval commanders now on duty in Hankow, including the Admiral of the Yangtsze Patrol, Wu Pei-fu, after exchanging compliments and generalities of conversations, regretted the recent blockade of traffic on the upper stretches of the Yangtsze river. When requested by the commanders to keep the important trade route of the Upper Yangtsze open to foreign shipping and trading and conclude peace terms with the invading Szechuenese at an early date, Wu Pei-fu said that steps were being taken to bring the Szechuenese to proper senses. He expressed his gladness to keep the Yangtsze route open to trading and shipping.

New U.S. U.-Boats Of 10,000 Mile Radius Of Action

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, Nov. 7.—The construction of two new type submarines has been begun at Portsmouth Navy Yard. The specifications for these vessels are as follows: Tonnage 2,025; Length 90 metres: Engine, electric, 6,500 H. P.: Speed, 21 knots (surface) and 10 knots (submerged). They will be armed with a 5-inch gun, which can be used against aircraft and six torpedo-tubes. They will have a cruising radius of possibly 10,000 miles.

GERMAN SHIPS SOLD

(Reuter's Service)

London, Nov. 7.—In the House of Commons today at questiontime Mr Baldwin, President of the Board of Trade, stated that out of the 482 ex-German vessels alloted to Britain for sale, 392 had been delivered and 385 sold.

Three hundred and twenty-six ships with a tonnage of 18,000,000 had been bought by British subjects, eleven ships with a tonnage of 127,000 by our Allies and 48 ships with a tonnage of 1,000,000 by others. The total sum realised was £19,411,000.

British Sport Craze Calls Out Criticism

London, Oct. 1.—Some newspapers have dared to raise their voices against the craze for sport, which has taken complete possession of the British men and is steadily extending its influence over the women.

The loss of working time caused by attending football and cricket games has been found to be material in accounting for the lowered industrial productivity.

There are league football matches every day in the big manufacturing districts and each match means the loss of half a day's work for tens of thousands of onlookers.

Every season the number of matches grows and never reached such a pitch as now, when unemployment and high prices are bringing about the most serious social crisis since the war.

But next to depriving the British workingman of his beer, nothing would be more likely to provoke a revolution than to interfere with his football.

JAPAN DUE FRIDAY

The Canadian Pacific Ocean Services liner Empress of Japan is due to reach Shanghai from Vancouver, via Japan ports, at 10 p.m. Friday. The tender with incoming passengers should arrive at the Customs jetty at 9:30 a.m. Saturday and the tender with outgoing passengers will leave at 4 p.m. the same day.

The Empress of Japan brings fifty passengers, a considerable amount of cargo and about 400 sacks of mail to Shanghai.

MERKULOFFS END QUICK IF JAPAN QUITS SIBERIA

(Dalta News Agency)

Harbin, Nov. 2.—In view of the decision of the Japanese Command to evacuate Japanese forces from the Maritime Province the bourgeois democratic circles in Vladivostok are discussing once more the formation of a coalition cabinet to take over the authority from Merkuloff. This plan finds no support among the people, who think that only complete unification with the Central Government will save the situation and bring peace to the province, otherwise the democrats will play into the hands of the Japanese.

The first step of the new mayor of Vladivostok was to discharge the liberal municipal employes without paying them anything. This is contrary to the Russian law which provides for the payment of two months' salary in case of discharge. The discharged employes are replaced by Mr. Yeremeyeff's "dependable" men.

The number of Merkuloff's arrested political opponents at Vladivostok reaches 700. A deaf ear is turned to the appeals of the arrested persons even when made to the Consular Corps. Merkuloff's secret agents under threats of violence are demanding the wives and parents to reveal the whereabout of their husbands and sons. With the information thus gained they will induce the men to "return" to their dear ones.

According to reliable information, the Merkulofists have sent to Japan and America over 5,000,000 Yen so as to insure themselves financially when their downfall comes.

The last session of Merkuloff's People's Assembly was remarkable because of the disclosure of a number of scandals committed by the members of Merkuloff's Government and the leaders of the Assembly. Mansvietoff, Nikolayeff and Pavlensky have been indicted by the assembly. They have been turned over to the judiciary officers for punishment.

Would Never Do To Let Japanese In Asserts Lyons

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, Nov. 7.—The Lyons Chamber of Commerce is disturbed at the news that Japan intends to take advantage of the Washington Conference to demand the extension to Indo-China of the Customs Agreement of August, 1911, which gives her the privilege of the minimum tariff for imports into France and Algeria.

The extension would place the Lyons silk industry in an awkward position. The industry has suffered much by the war and would find it very difficult to cope with Japanese competition in Indo-China.

The Chamber of Commerce therefore addressed to the Premier, before his departure for the United States, a note emphasising the gravity of the danger and suggesting to him the creation of a special tariff for Indo-China, adapted to her geographical position.

Any legislation would entirely depend on the replies received. He anticipated favorable replies.

London's Show Is Success, Now Let Shanghai Beat It

(Reuter's Service)

London, Nov. 7.—Fifty thousand people on Saturday visited the International Motor Show at Olympia, which was again besieged by big crowds today, a long queue awaiting the opening.

Manufacturers and salesmen are rejoicing at this sign of revival of trade. Individual purchases of cars have not been great, but motor-agents have placed a large number of orders, one Welsh firm ordering 300 cars.

N.Y. Maru Not Yet Abandoned Despite Waterlogged Holds

(Reuter Pacific Service)

Hongkong, Nov. 8.—The New York Maru has considerably damaged her bottom. There is eleven feet of water in the forepeak and one foot in No. 2 hold. A wireless message received from the vessel indicates that it is not necessary to abandon her.

The Tamba Maru and the Macassar Maru have responded to her S.O.S. and have proceeded to her assistance. The Japanese authorities have also detailed warships to proceed to the scene.

FIRST MOTORSHIP HERE FROM U.S. AFTER GOOD RUN

"William Penn" Is Second Largest Craft Of Kind In World

After a highly successful trip from the United States the first American motorship to reach China —the second largest craft of her kind in the world—is now in Shanghai harbor.

The ship is the Willian Penn, owned by the U. S. government, and her agents here are the Admiral Line.

The vessel, equipped with a four-cycle, six-cylinder, direct reversible Diesel engine, was built in 1920 and is now on her maiden voyage to the Orient. Her main engines are 4500 horse power, and her auxiliaries 300 horse power. Her average speed from New York to the Orient was 11.1 knots per hour. Her consumption at sea is thirteen tons of standard Diesel engine oil per day.

The William Penn is the first motorship owned by the United States government and is the largest under the American flag and the second largest in the world. She is managed and operated by the Barber Steamship Lines, Inc., of New York, and her agents in the Orient are the Admiral Line.

After discharging her Shanghai cargo, the William Penn will go to Foochow and Swatow and thence to Hongkong and Manila. At the latter port she will load for European ports and will proceed to London by way of the Suez canal and then on to New York.

The William Penn is 455 ft., 6 in. long, 60 ft. beam, and when loaded to her summer marks draws 28 ft., 4 inches. Her average engine revolutions when going full speed are 107, and during a loaded full speed trial outside New York she averaged 12.6 knots for 12 hours. She carries enough fuel oil and water in her tanks to take her around the world. The crew is all American, with the exception of Chinese cooks and waiters. Several more vessels of the William Penn type are now under construction.

"I confidently expect in view of the successful manner in which this vessel has run to see this type in evidence everywhere in the near future," says R. H. Wright, master of the William Penn. "The practical shipping man has only to compare the cost and amount of her daily consumption with that of the steam propelled ship, either a coal or an oil burner, to see for himself her great economy in operating expenses. She also carries a far smaller crew than a steam propelled vessel would, her entire engine room staff being composed of certificated engineers, eight of whom are serving as senior and junior motormen for the sake of experience and turue promotion in this type of ship."

Gen. Ho Refuses To Allow Meeting On Armistice Day

It was originally planned to hold a representative meeting at the Recreation Ground at the West Gate on November 11 to celebrate the opening of the Pacific Conference, but permission for the use of the Recreation Ground has been refused by Defence Commissioner Ho Feng-lin on the ground that the situation is unsettled.

The Street Unions have made arrangements for hoisting the national flag over the shops on Armistice Day, which will be observed as a public holiday by a number of Chinese establishments.

JUDGES NOT YET HAVE TOUCHED THEIR DUE WAGE

(China Press Correspondence)

Peking, Nov. 5.—The time limit for the Minister of Justice, Mr. Tung Kang, to reply to the demands of the judicial officials of the lower and higher courts of Peking expired yesterday but no pay is yet forthcoming.

These officials demanded that they be given their arrears of pay which are due them for several months or they would go out on strike. It was impossible to learn today whether or not an actual strike had been declared but according to Chinese information many of the officials were in favor of remaining at home until the minister had satisfied their demands.

Of Stock Exchanges There Is No End; 5 New Ones Reported

In spite of the apprehension and opposition developing here and the efforts of the Ministry of Agriculture and Commerce to check such organisations, five new stock and produce exchanges are shortly to be established here, according to Chinese reports.

The Chinese papers state that foreigners and Chinese are interested in the establishment of the Tsoong Eu-sing Cloth and Gauze Exchange at 542 Yue Ching Lee, off Nanking Road. Other exchanges about to open include a produce exchange on Sin Kong-lee, off Bubbling Well Road; a building exchange on Broadway, a timber exchange on Klangsi Road, and an oil exchange on Ningpo Road.

No Drugging—No Unpleasant After-Effects.

An appreciative doctor wrote:—

"Lady——was placed under my care for the voyage Home. I could not accept any responsibility as I considered she was in great danger from haemorrhage should she vomit. She had always been a very bad sailor. As a precaution she was given two capsules of 'KIRBY'S SEA-SICK CURE' immediately she went on board. We got into rough water shortly before midnight, but Lady——had an undisturbed night's rest. She took one capsule half-an-hour before dressing. She had breakfast in the dining hall, and assured me she had no sensation of nausea or sickness. Although we had rough weather for five days, and at other periods of the voyage, she was not sea-sick. There was no nausea of any kind, and the remedy produced no after-effects."

Old Bill, Springfield Up, Winner Of Shanghai Stakes; Thomas A Becket Qualifies

Second Day Of Autumn Race Meeting Marked By Close Running To Form Of Favorites And Low Level Dividends

prise was expressed by race followers when Lichfield failed to place in the race.

An unfortunate incident of the day was an accident in the ninth race in which Mr. Frank Vida was thrown from King's Cross just as the pony in the van of the field was sweeping into the home stretch. King's Cross was a decided contender in this event and it had been expected that the pony would be qualified to start today in the Champions in this race. Mr. Vida was not injured by the fall and in fact was able to ride his own pony, Paddison, in the following race, winning third place in that event.

The weather gods again favored the followers of the ponies, for the skies were clear and sunny though a decided nip developed in the air toward the close of the program.

Mr. Heard and Mr. A. N. Dallas divide honors for the day among the riders. Mr. Heard scored three wins and took second place in an additional race and Mr. Dallas scored three wins and finished third in an additional event.

CLUB TIFFIN

Yesterday's club tiffin was a particularly enjoyable affair, as the occasion was marked by the presentation of The Chinese Cup trophy of the third race, which was presented by Chinese friends of the Shanghai Race Club.

Mr. G. H. Stitt presided and in an address following the tiffin he announced the presentation of the trophy, and at the same time he announced that the Stewards of the Shanghai Race Club will present a cup for an event of the coming Chinese New Year's Meeting in which ponies owned by Chinese and ridden by Chinese riders are to be eligible.

Mr. Chu Pao-san and Mr. C. C. Nieh occupied seats with Mr. Stitt and after the cup had been presented to Mr. M. O. Springfield, who had just ridden Old Bill to victory in the race, Mr. Chang Li-wen gave a particularly happy address which called forth much applause.

Mr. Springfield spoke on behalf of Messrs. Campbell and Oxley Cummings, owners of Old Bill, who are absent and he assured his hearers that the prize was one that would be most highly prized. A feature of the tiffin was the drinking of the health of Mr. C. R. Burkill, doyen of Shanghai riders, who responded in a pleasing manner. Representatives of the Shanghai press were entertained at the tiffin.

Those who attended the tiffin were: Messrs. G. H. Stitt, H. E. Arnhold, P. W. Liddell, C. G. S. Mackie, W. L. Merriman, H. H. Read, W. G. Pirie, F. Milner, C. R. Burkill, G. Dallas, N. W. Hickling, H. E. Morriss, T. U. Yih, Y. S. Day, Chu Pao-san, C. C. Nieh, Zih Lir-kung, Pan Ching-poo, Chun Bing-him, Lo King-kee, Chun Shut-kai, Lo Jack-sung, Pan Chee-chuen and Chang Nieh-yun.

ARMY AND NAVY ANNUAL MATCH ARMISTICE DAY

Football Men Will Play In Aid Of Blind Veterans

The annual football match between the Army and Navy has been arranged to be played on Armistice Day on the Police ground commencing at 3 p.m.

The idea of playing the match on Armistice Day is a happy one and should also prove more profitable from the point of view of the St. Dunstan's Home for Blinded Soldiers and Sailors for which institution the usual collection will be taken on the ground.

With the British warships Hawkins, Venus, Widgeon and Bee in port a very powerful Navy side will be put in the field. The usual features on the touch line will be provided in the shape of clowns and bands, jazz and otherwise, chiefly the latter, all kindly supplied by the Navy. It will be remembered that last year the Navy won after a very strenuous game by 3 goals to 1 and the year before honors rested with the Army by 2-1. Greater interest than ever is being evinced in the forthcoming game as both sides are anxious to assume the lead.

This annual match has always provided keen football and spectators will find it well worth their while to make the visit to the Police ground on Armistice afternoon. It is also hoped that as many ex service men as possible will turn out to encourage their chosen representatives just as the Navy lads have never lacked for support from the touch lines.

The Army team will be selected tomorrow from the following: D. W. Leach, A. M. Cameron, J. A. Quayle, J. Xavier, W. J. Brown, A. Crawford, W. H. Smedley, R. M. Ogden, T. S. D. Wade, V. Evans, A. J. Clark, T. W. R. Wilson, A. Knox, G. Norris, W. W. Kay and S. Flood.

CERCLE SPORTIF TENNIS TOURNEY CONTINUES TODAY

Players in the French Club's tennis tournament faced another day of chill and wind yesterday but there was good play to be seen and all things considered a fair crowd was on hand to see it.

By defeating Elmore and Vermey Messrs. Fawcett and Sheldon won places in the semi-finals of the Hardcourt Singles Championship lower half. In the upper flight there are Koning, Seddon, Mansel-Smith and Barberat still to play. They take the courts this afternoon.

Elmore and Hargreaves went into the finals in the Gentlemen's Hardcourt Doubles Championship by beating Sheldon and Butchart. The win was rather easy—with a two-set margin.

In a keenly contested match going to 3 sets Mr. and Mrs. Mansel-Smith won over Mrs. Ferguson and Koning, moving thereby into the Hardcourt Mixed Doubles Championship, semi-finals.

Darkness prevented the playing off of the matches between Miss Hones and Knowles v. Mr. and Mrs. Thomson and between Miss Strahler and Klimanek v. Mrs. Ford and Brown. These matches are to be completed this afternoon.

Tanaka Is Japanese Golf Champ

Mr. Z. Tanaka of Tokio won the amateur golf championship of Japan at the Tokio Golf Club with a medal score of 164 for the 36 holes. His victory was a surprise as with the withdrawal of Mr. H. Kawasaki the victory was conceded by practically all golfers to Mr. C. G. Osborne of the Yokohama team.

Mr. Osborne hit his stride only for a few holes on the second round after luncheon, his card placing him second with a score of 168. Mr. R. E. de Raismes of the Yokohama team and Mr. K. Akohoshi of Tokio tied with 169 for third.

The course was in elegant condition, and the remarkable feature of the day was the fact that no one of the players seemed to be at the top of his form during the match.

Mr. Tanaka, the winner of the cup, played consistent golf in both the morning and the afternoon. There was nothing brilliant or spectacular in his play throughout the 36 holes, but he plodded on his way, turning in an 81 in the morning and an 83 in the afternoon. That would not have been enough to win last year, but it was four strokes better than the next this year.

Good Scores Turned In For Benevolent Shield And Nestles Cup Events

Hodges, Collaco And Thomson Make Fine Showing In Rifle Association Competitions; November Cup Feature Also Fired At Range

The Shanghai Rifle Association events for the Benevolent Shield and the Nestles Cup were shot off at the Rifle Range Monday, with F. E. Hodges and A. M. Collaco figuring at the top of the list in the respective features.

In the latter event Collaco made a fine score of 74 out of a possible 75, making fourteen bullseyes and one inner, D. Leighton was second with 12 bulls and three inners. At the 500-yards deliberate, Hodges was top with 65 points out of a possible 75 and headed the list when the ranges were added.

Collaco and C. E. M. Thomson registered possible score at the 500 and 200-yard ranges in the Nestels Cup competition. Following are the results:

Your Health Comes First

Good Health is your most valuable asset—its preservation should, therefore, receive your most careful consideration. An important point which should always be borne in mind is the fact that a great many forms of ill-health can be traced, directly or indirectly, to disorders of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. It is wise, therefore, to keep these organs in healthy activity. When they show any signs of derangement let that reliable medicine, Beecham's Pills, be taken at once. Always deal with digestive ailments in time. They are far-reaching in their possibilities of mischief if neglected, as they too often are. And yet it is generally easy to keep fit and well and free from many debilitating ailments by the simple use of

Partisans Become Specialists Where Bridges Are Found

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Vladivostok, Nov. 8.—The partisans have destroyed two bridges on the Souchan line. Traffic is interrupted.

There has been a heavy fall of snow in the Amur Province. The navigation of the River Zea is closed and the Amur is expected to close in ten days.

A skirmish between peasants and partisans took place on October 23 at the village of Khmielnteky, north of Souchan, owing to an attempt by the latter to requisition supplies. The partisans were driven off.

On November 2 a general meeting of the workers at the Souchan coal-mines decided to resume work.

(Dalta News Agency)

Chita, Nov. 2.—Communication on the Ussuri Railway has been paralysed as a result of the activities of the Partisans in that district. As a protest against the illegal acts of the Merkuloffists, Semenoffists and Kappelists, the peasants are forming Partisan detachments, blowing up military trains and successfully hindering communications by destroying the railway bridges, cutting the telegraphs and attacking the Merkuloff men whom they style enemies of the people.

During the last few days fifteen railway bridges have been blown up by the Partisans and several encounters with the Kappelists have taken place in the southern part of the Maritime Province. Many of the bridges were guarded by Japanese troops.

WILL PAY DEBT IF YOU AID US SAYS CHICHERIN

(Rosta News Agency)

Moscow, Nov. 2.—The Note of Mr. Chicherin, People's Commissar of Foreign Affairs, to Britain, France, Italy, Japan and America expresses the readiness of the Soviet Government to recognise the Tsarist debts on condition that the powers will assist in establishing the economic life of Russia, and in combating the famine as well as completely recognise the Soviet and conclude a general peace with her.

For this purpose, the Soviet Government proposes the convocation of an international conference in the near future.

MANY ARE HURT

(Special To The China Press)

San Francisco, Nov. 7.—Many persons were injured none of them seriously, when a throng of Italians welcomed the officers and crew of the Italian cruiser Libia. They forced their way through the police lines to the gangplank, which broke, throwing men, women, and children on the docks. The Libia is in port for a two weeks' courtesy visit.

ELECTRICITY
COOKING MADE EASY.

¶ Electric cooking avoids not only the serious waste of meat inseparable from old-fashioned methods of cooking, it avoids waste of all kinds—waste of some of the most valuable products of a joint, and waste of delicate flavor.

¶ The much discussed saving in the weight of meat which follows from electric roasting has now been proved. The saving is owing to no particular virtue of electricity, but to the fact that the oven-heat, regulated with ease by a few switches and a thermometer, can be maintained at the correct degree to cook the meat without the close attention and continuous manipulation of fire and dampers which is necessary to maintain on a coal range even an approximately uniform oven heat.

For particulars and choice of cookers see the types on view in our Showroom

College And School Notes

SOUTH-EASTERN UNIVERSITY

The formal opening ceremony of the South-Eastern University at Nanking will be held December 23 to 25 and delegates from various universities and colleges all over the country have been invited to this celebration.

General Chi Shih-yuen, Tuchun of Kiangsu, has contributed a library fund to the university. The library will be located at the western side of the main entrance, and designs have been prepared by the chief librarian of Tsing Hua College, Mr. C. C. Tai, with Mr. Huan of the University. The detail drawings will be ready soon, and the corner stone will be laid at the opening ceremony of the University. The construction will cost about $100,000, and its equipment around $50,000. This sum is contributed by Tuchun Chi, while funds for books are to be solicited.

The Nanking Teachers' College, a part of the University, has laid proper emphasis on the science department. The China Medical Board of Rockefeller Foundation proposed, some time ago, to erect and present a science building to the best science school in China, and Dr. P. Monroe was consequently, during his visit to the East, requested to inspect the college with Dr. S. D. Wilson, of the Peking Union Medical College. They made satisfactory comment on the college work, and, it is reported, that they decided to recommend G.$100,000 for the said Science building.

The site and building of the Nanyang Industrial Exhibition were given to the University by Mr. P. T. Chang, a wealthy Chinese merchant in Java. The Exhibition was opened in 1910, and since then, the buildings have been unoccupied and the ground lay unproductive. Its area is several hundred mow, and it will be used for the extension of the agricultural department of the University.

Dr. P. Monroe, representing the Carnegie Foundation, had the idea of subscribing G$13,000 from the Foundation to the University. He is also the chairman of the Far Eastern section of the World International Educational Association, and pays special attention to this University. He will arrange to send there yearly an eminent professor from the universities in the Association to lecture on various subjects.

The Harvard University and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, in the United States, desire to have their engineering college in China, and are represented by Dr. J. A. L. Waddell and Mr. Melow to arrange this scheme with the University. A draft constitution has been drawn by them and Dr. P. W. Kuo, President of the University, and many important objects were discussed. The engineering college will have courses in civil engineering, mechanical engineering and electrical engineering. The location has not yet been decided whether in Hankow, Nanking or Shanghai.

ST. JOHN'S UNIVERSITY

The date for the intercollegiate English debate between St. John's and Nanking University has been set for Nov. 15. The subject is 'Resolved: that China should adopt a Federal Form of Government." St. John's takes the negative.

Dr. S. D. Wilson, of Peking Union Medical College, representing the Rockefeller Foundation, visited the science department of the University on Wednesday last.

About 500 books have recently arrived for the library from America, covering the economics, politics, religions, etc.

The students' body of the Journalism department has brought out an English weekly, the St. John's Dial." It contains the reports on economics and the market by students in economics, and the usual features of news items. Mr. Don D. Patterson, professor of the department, is the promoter of the paper.

Russian Accuses Servants Of Stealing Y. 5,200 And Watch

Theft of Yen 5,200 and a gold wrist watch was charged to four Chinese servants by Mr. P. Posdayakov, 32 East Seward Road, in the Mixed Court yesterday. The money and watch were taken from a strong-box which was broken open Monday while the complainant was out of his room.

When the complainant, who is a Russian, called in the police it was found that a coolie employed on the premises had absconded. The other servants, though known to be frequenters of the missing coolie's home, have refused to give any information as to his present whereabouts. The case was remanded one week.

Stabilising Exchange

BY HIRAM BARNEY

SECRETARY Hoover, in his speech before the American Manufacturers' Export Association, called the country's attention to the unsatisfactory position of America's foreign trade and the well-nigh impossibility of an improvement without a stabilisation of exchange. He asked for a plan whereby such stabilisation could be accomplished, pointing out that many plans had been proposed, but that most of them revolved around the issue of fiat paper and so to be dismissed as opiates of commerce and perpetuations of the inflation which is the mother of instability.

On the same day Secretary Mellon, before a committee of Congress, spoke of the need for immediate action in regard to the refunding of the allied debt.

These two problems—the Allied debt problem and the problem of fluctuating exchange—go hand in hand, and on their solution rests the future prosperity of the United States and of the whole world for many years to come. The Allied debt problem involves exchange to such an extent that it cannot be treated as a debt problem alone, and the stabilisation of exchange depends to a great extent upon how the debt problem is handled. The two problems must be handled together.

The following plan for stabilising exchange attacks the Allied debt problem and at the same time proposes no issue of fiat paper, unless the currencies of the Federal Reserve system and of the old national bank system are of a fiat character. It seeks to establish a great Federal Reserve Bank for foreign trade independent of the Federal Reserve system. Through this all the foreign trade and exchange business of the United States shall pass, as the domestic business passes through the Federal Reserve system today.

The Federal Reserve act originally provided for the establishment of foreign branches of the Federal Reserve Bank, but made this voluntary. No foreign branches were established. Later the law was amended to make their establishment mandatory, but they were not established and the statement has been made on the floor of the Senate that the Federal Reserve system could not expand and establish such foreign branches, as they did not have even sufficient resources to meet the demands of our domestic business.

Then let such a bank be established by Congress with a capital of say $2,400,000,000, and let Congress provide that the Secretary of the Treasury shall take 51 percent of the stock for the benefit of the people of the United States and subscribe any remainder not taken by the public, holding this remainder, subject to sale, to citizens of the United States. Let it also be provided that no bank, banker, firm, corporation or individual other than this bank shall buy, sell or transfer dollar balances at more or less than gold par or buy, sell or transfer foreign balances at more or less than gold par without the express authority of this bank. This will send all the foreign exchange and trading business of the United States through this bank, which, as a great central banking institution of the country, will then have the power to name the rates of exchange which from time to time shall prevail. In order that this bank shall fully co-operate with the existing banking institutions of America, the rates of exchange which this bank shall name should include a suitable commission to any bank or banker who is in the exchange business and buys, sells or transfers foreign exchange.

Let the bank's board consist of fifteen members, including the Secretary of the Treasury, the Secretary of Commerce and the Governor of the Federal Reserve Board and twelve others, to be appointed by the President of the United States, who shall be native citizens of the United States, some of whom shall be experienced in banking, others of whom shall be experienced in manufacturing, and still others of whom shall be experienced as merchants in foreign trade. So much for the skeleton of the bank. Now, as to its capitalisation and its operations.

The debt of the Allies to the United States, taking England, France, Belgium and Italy alone, amount to (not including interest) about $9,500,000,000; according to a recent report the United States gold holdings are $3,226,000,000 in excess of the $2,641,061,000 which is stated to be sufficient to take up all the demands of the people for gold. This $3,226,000,000 is serving no public good and is being increased all the time by a flow of gold to America due to the position of foreign exchanges. Capitalise this bank in part with $800,000,000 to $1,000,000,000 of this useless gold and in part with a part of the Allied debt. Deposit with the bank, naming it as the government's fiscal agent, the remainder of the Allied debt. Let the bank treat the Allied debt as gold to the extent of 35 cents on the dollar (surely no one will say that the Allied debts are not worth that much).

On this basis the bank could issue approximately $3,325,000,000 currency which has less inflation in it than much of the National Bank Currency which is outstanding today.

The total excess of United States exports over imports for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1921, was $2,862,000,000. Assuming the average usance of the export bills to be ninety days, the average quarterly excess of export bills over import bills amounted to approximately $715,500,000. It will thus be seen that this bank would have enough currency to buy every commercial bill covering exports and imports from and to the United States throughout the year, with a large amount of buying power left over for purchasing commercial bills in foreign countries.

The proposed bank is designed to do for foreign exchange what the Federal Reserve system does for domestic exchange. In other words, the bank stands in the breach and says to the world, for example: "We will buy all pounds sterling commercial bills offered during the next three months at $4." Merchants engaged in foreign trade will then be enabled to buy and sell their goods with a stable medium of exchange, and at the end of the commercial transaction, three months hence, this bank, which has bought the commercial bill, will be reimbursed the money which it paid for the bill by the foreign or American merchants, and that money may be deposited in its own vaults or in the vaults of the Federal Reserve system, to take up an equivalent amount of its outstanding currency.

This plan will not cause inflation in the United States and it will, to the extent that exchange is pegged up, cause deflation in foreign countries and a continuing, self-adjusting tariff. If deflation was a proper principle to apply to America and a benefit to us, certainly all the more so should it be beneficial in foreign countries where it is so much more needed.

Japan's Absorption Of Siberia — By Nathaniel Peffer

(From The Nation)

The meaning of the vague and fragmentary news cablegrams from Siberia scattered through the back pages of the newspapers this last summer is simply this: The conquest by Japan of the great empire of Eastern Siberia is being rapidly forwarded; forwarded, indirectly but materially, by the Western Powers; forwarded most by America, which simultaneously is making of that process one of the issues through which we may drift toward conflict with Japan.

The bare facts as set forth by the press are that Vladivostok and its environs have been wrested from the control of the Far Eastern Republic by the forces of Kappel and Semionov and that a White government has been established; that the counter-revolutionaries are steadily pushing their control westward toward Chita and making a flank movement in Mongolia; that the Chita Government is imperiled, even the capture of Chita itself being reported. The Whites are nearer mastery over Siberia than at any time since Kolchak reigned at Omsk. The interpretation placed on these facts by the editorial writers, and presumably the public is that another blow has been struck for liberty in Russia, that the anti-Bolsheviki have again emancipated Siberia from the dread Red tyranny that Freedom sings once more on the steppes.

To those who neither think in labels nor write with a rubber stamp the facts are not so sweetly simple. These men—Semionov, Kappel, Ungern, and their ilk—are, to be sure, anti-Bolsheviki. They are the scum left behind by the Kolchak tide. They are anti-Bolshevik, but only secondarily. Their prime, practical relation to Siberian events is not as enemies of Bolshevism but as Japanese agents made by Japan, paid by Japan, equipped by Japan, and operating for Japan. It is not a Russian political faction that rules Eastern Siberia. It is Japan.

I make these statements categorically, because it is superfluous to prove them. They can be found repeated in the files of the State Department and in the Military Intelligence Division at Washington, and in the files of the Foreign Offices and Military Intelligence Divisions of every important European capital. They are commonplaces to all residents of the Far East. They are openly discussed even in the Japanese press.

It is nearly two years since Kolchak came to his sorry end and the reactionaries, no longer buttressed by Allied gold, passed with him. The Allied and American armies withdrew. A government was formed at Chita which proclaimed itself non-Bolshevik, non-Soviet, and independent of Moscow. Whether it was or not is immaterial just now. In any case it was established, and brought order wherever it was able to go. But it has admittedly failed to reunite all Siberia. It has admittedly failed in the first test of a government, the ability to put down its internal enemies. In turn Semionov, Kalmikov, Kappel, Ungern, with their guerrilla bands of Cossacks and ex-brigands, have embarrassed and obstructed it. Without money, without visible sources of munitions and supplies, without permament bases, with only the scantiest communications they have managed to keep going, to maintain themselves against superior forces, to reappear again and again after reverses, and finally to win the upper hand, to conquer the Maritime Province, including the vital port of Vladivostok. How? And by whose help?

When the Allies and America withdrew their troops from Siberia, Japan did not. On the contrary, Japan seized Vladivostok and the Maritime Province, the northern half of Sakhalin, and vital links in the Chinese Eastern and Trans-Siberian railways. It has not been coincidence that where Semionovistas, Kappelistas, Ungernistas, and other tattered remnants of Czarism operated there were also officers of the Japanese General Staff. The frequent trips of the reactionary chieftains to Vladivostok, to Dairen, to Tsingtao, to Port Arthur—all Japanese-governed ports—and even to Japan itself have not been holiday jaunts. And their sudden coming into wealth following these trips has not been coincidence either.

Nor was it just a humanitarian impulse that prompted the Japanese to offer Semionov asylum for so many months last year and this year, at a time when he had been defeated by the Siberian army and his capture was imminent—the asylum from which he emerged suddenly when the coup was effected at Vladivostok. And what shall be said of those occasions when the Chita Government tried to send troops to crush the insurrectionary forces and the Japanese refused them passage over the railway; when an assembly of all the Siberian provinces was called to perfect a unified government representing all of Siberia and the Japanese refused to allow delegates from the western provinces to use the railway, vital links of which they controlled? It is strange, then, this failure of the Siberian Far Eastern Republic to unite the whole of Siberia and subdue its internal enemies? Moreover, in the spring of 1920, when the Japanese seized Vladivostok on the ground that there was no government there capable of preserving order, that could guard against the inroads of the Bolsheviki who might menace Japan's shores, what was Japan's first step toward insuring the preservation of order? It disbanded virtually the whole local militia, the only existing machinery for guaranteeing peace. Was it purely a coincidence that the militia was the body loyal to the elements that were allied with the Chita Government and were pressing for Japan's complete evacuation?

Early this year it was a matter of tea-table gossip in all Far Eastern cities that a reactionary coup was impending in Siberia. In Peking the lobbies of the Hotel de Pekin and the Wagons-lits swarmed with notorious Russian reactionaries clanking spurs and drinking champagne, suddenly flush with prosperity. Among them were all the best-known lieutenants of Semionov and Kappel. And there were mysterious secret conferences long into the night and mysterious comings and goings from port to port, especially to and from those ports controlled by Japan. About the same time I happened to go to Tokio from Peking. In Tokio it was necessary for me to interview the national leaders, including Premier Hara and the principal cabinet ministers. I asked them when Japan intended to withdraw from Siberia. Not until there was in Siberia a government strong enough to preserve order, they said with unanimity. And they pointed out the danger of the impending outbreak.

How did the Japanese act in pursuance of their desire to preserve order, their avowed object in occupying Vladivostok? Just as everybody foresaw, there was a minor outbreak in Vladivostok in March. A number of Kappel adherents had seeped into the port. While they were waiting for reinforcements and the signal to act, their presence became known to the Vladivostok government authorities. The latter sent out police to arrest and disarm the Kappelistas. They found large numbers of them quartered in the homes of Japanese. But wherever they found them they disarmed them. The prospect of a coup being thus dashed, how did the Japanese act by way of demonstrating their neutrality in Russian internal affairs and their desire to see order preserved? They sent out their own gendarmerie, searched government military headquarters, forts, arsenals, and homes of officers, and seized all the arms they found. That is, all those they had not disarmed the year before they disarmed now. To preserve order in a country where a government was threatened with insurrection they disarmed the government!

The next step followed inevitably. The Japanese having made defenceless all those who might keep them out, the reactionaries headed by Kappel marched into Vladivostok, evicted the Government, and took control. In a few days they were joined by General Semionov, suddenly emerging from his Japanese asylum in Tsingtao. And did the Japanese disarm the Kappelistas then? They did not. The Kappelistas are still in Vladivostok; they have not been disarmed, and indeed are in control there now—side by side with the Japanese. Only those were to be disarmed who were for an independent Siberia. Naturally, a few days after the coup the Japanese papers all printed a long statement from one of Kappel's aides to the effect that all good Russians besought the Japanese Government not to withdraw its troops from Siberia but to remain there to cooperate in the work of reconstruction.

Small wonder, then, that the Japanese now say they will evacuate Siberia. Why not? Let the present Government of Vladivostok but consolidate its position and the Japanese can leave Eastern Siberia without a Japanese soldier or a Japanese gun and still govern it from Tokio as effectively as if it had been annexed. Everything the Japanese want in Siberia, concessions and the dictation of future political policies and economic development, they will have. And they will be spared the expense of an occupation and the embarrassment of explaining it away to their own people. Also they will be able to come to the Conference in Washington as one cleansed of conscience, saying: "See, have we not given up Siberia?" That is the true meaning of what comes heralded to readers of the American press as "the overthrow of the Bolsheviki in Siberia."

Now I say these things with no animus toward Japan and not in any harsh spirit of criticism. I do not believe Japan is particularly to be blamed. In a politically cynical world where nations take all they can, I do not see why

TODAY'S THOUGHTS!

Hope

The Rich and Poor alike
Their Ten Mex. Dollars pay,
Because they think they may
The "Champions" win today.

Anticipation

Tonight some fellow—
Or it may be a "she"
Will be happy
Two hundred thousand bucks!
Oh! Thought divine
Maybe mine!
(Maybe ? ! ?)
What care I if it be the mount
Of Billy Hill
Or Old Bill.
Let it but draw the number that I hold!
And say!
I'll pay
All I owe!
Two hundred thousand Mex!
Count 'em!
Caress 'em
It seems
In dreams
Too good to be true
Yet tonight some fellow—
Or it may be a "she"
Will be happy!

Realisation

Gone!
Ten of the best
Gone West.
Number wrong!
And in my pain I say
Never again!
But I've said that before.
"Hope springs eternal in the human breast.
Some never are, but always to be blest."
So perhaps
I will bring
It back
In the Spring.

Japan's Absorption Of Siberia

Japan for mere righteousness should turn its face against opportunity's offer of an empire. No nation would. The guilt rests, as I said before, more on the Western Powers, most of all on America. For we made the opportunity, made it out of our hallucinations concerning Bolshevism. The events now occurring in the Far East are but the logical and inevitable result of our fatuous and inept policy as displayed there. The result was foredoomed from the beginning.

It was foredoomed by that first major insanity, the intervention in Siberia. Every dictate of reason was against intervention. Throughout the war the Japanese imperialists had shown their intention of taking advantage of every possible opening while the Western Powers were too involved in the war to watch or protest. They had shown it in the Twenty-One Demands, in their occupation of Shantung, and in their political and economic penetration of Peking. The most elementary principle of diplomacy demanded that the status quo be left undisturbed; that no unnecessary openings be given. Instead, with the warning before us of the Twenty-One Demands, Shantung, and the penetration of Peking, we cut the biggest opening of all. We led the Japanese into Siberia.

Then after the Kolchak fiasco and the withdrawal of Allied and American troops and Japan's refusal to withdraw, the most elementary principle of diplomacy demanded that we foster any nucleus of a government that might restore peace in Siberia and thus leave the Japanese no pretext for remaining. Still seeing Red ghosts, we did nothing of the kind. The American press and the American State Department gibbered in imbecile terror, part genuine as the result of ignorance, and part simulated as the result of interest, about Red tides of Bolshevism sweeping toward the Pacific and the noble Japanese army standing heroically at the dikes of civilisation. American residents of China and Japan, American military attaches, American intelligence officers, American correspondents, American consular officers even, cried out in wearisome iteration that there was no Bolshevism in Siberia, that the presence of alien troops was merely driving Siberia into the arms of Moscow, that intervention was giving the Siberians no alternative but that of choosing either their own people, even if Bolsheviki, or alien conquerors, but all these voices remained unheeded. During all this time the Japanese, tongue in cheek, gravely confirmed America's worst fears.

A year ago only, when the special assembly of the Far Eastern Republic was convened at Chita and a bid was made for foreign recognition, when the whole future of Siberia was possible of recasting, America did not compromise itself by heeding the call, did not thus violate its conceived faithfulness to civilisation's trust. Not an American diplomatic agent, official or unofficial, not an American attache, not an American correspondent was within two thousand miles of the scene, while the Japanese had full diplomatic, military, and commercial missions present throughout. The Far Eastern Republic implored the American Government to send investigators to see for themselves, implored American business men to accept its trade, implored American capitalists to accept its concessions; but America raised the hand of stern righteousness against the barbarian's wily temptings. The Japanese, on the other hand, poured hundreds of commercial agents into the country and on occasional trips across Manchuria and Korea, I myself have shared compartments on the railway with British and French business men back from Siberia with order books bursting with contracts.

So throughout we frustrated every effort to realise the sole possibility of bringing about the only condition that would give the world unquestioned right to insist on Japan's withdrawal and leave Japan no legitimate ground for remaining—we, I say, meaning Americans, because Americans more than any other people were subject to Bolshevik hallucinations. We not only refused to recognise the Far Eastern Republic, we not only refused to encourage the establishment of a government, but we actually defeated any attempt to establish one. We made stability in Siberia impossible. We did exactly what the Japanese militarists and imperialists wanted us to do. While the Japanese people clamored for the withdrawal of the Siberian expedition and the Japanese militarists whose every instinct is anti-American worked feverishly to create pretexts for remaining, we Americans gave our support to the militarists. We worked for them as effectively as Semionov or Kappel or Ungern or any of their other paid agents. We worked along the same lines. We stratified instability, paralysed the forces for order, underwrote chaos. We opened the door for Japanese aggression. And now we have brought about this, the inevitable conclusion: we have overthrown the Government in Eastern Siberia and enthroned Japan. We have furthered the process of making over to Japan, for purposes of exploitation, half an empire, an Eldorado.

We have done more than that. We have needlessly and artificially created yet another issue with Japan. For now that we have done what we have, we begin to perceive its consequences. The same press that applauded when Japan began to execute its design, now that the design has been executed, voices its suspicion of Japanese intentions. The same Government that connived at the accomplishment of Japan's purposes, now calls Far Eastern conferences to discuss the results. The issue however artificially created, will be pressed. We shall come to see that while in the last few years we have tried to obstruct every imperialistic ambition of Japan we have actually helped realise one of its major ambitions. Now we shall say to Japan, with much justice, that its dominance over Siberia is in derogation of international rights in the Pacific. But nations seldom abandon territory or special positions that they have gained at some sacrifice. Thus the issue will be sharpened and yet more sharpened, and added unto the numerous other issues being sharpened—also needlessly, many of them—until the world confronts the grave danger of recourse to what nations still believe is a solution of their differences.

Wu Not Scared Of Sun If Money Is Forthcoming

(China Press Correspondence)

Peking, Nov. 4.—General Wu Pei-fu is due to reach Paotingfu on Sunday, the 6th, for a conference with Marshal Tsao Kun, according to the best information. The meeting has been planned for some time, and the discussions between General Tsao and Wu will cover measures for calling the Lushan Conference, the situation along the Yangtsze Valley and defensive plans against Dr. Sun's much heralded northern invasion.

Wu Pei-fu has, it is reliably reported, telegraphed to the Peking Government that he has enough troops in the Yangtsze Valley to confront Sun's invaders with an assured prospect of success. The troops either under his direct command or under men directly responsible to him number 100,000, about half of these being seasoned veterans of three victorious campaigns. In addition there are some 50,000 troops in the Yangtsze provinces commanded by northern Tuchuns not directly responsible to Wu. Hence, says Wu, there is no need of despatching Chang Tso-lin's Manchurian troops to the Yangtsze until they are asked for.

WU WANTS MONEY

What General Wu does need, however, is money, and it is understood that he has informed Peking that $30,000,000 will be necessary to equip, feed, pay and keep up a defensive army of 100,000 men against the South. Where the money is to come from no one, the Central Government least of all, knows. It is therefore considered probable that Wu's army, like many Chinese armies before it, will face—and fight—the South without the funds that its commander requires for it.

No attempts will, it is stated, be made by General Wu Pei-fu to carry on an agressive campaign against Dr. Sun's armies. Wu will confine himself purely to an aggressive defence, and he will not attack Sun provided Sun lets the northern provinces alone.

HOPE FOR CHEN SUPPORT

Sentiment regarding the Lushan Conference is hopeful, both at Wu's headquarters and among his adherents in Peking and Paotingfu. Marshal Tsao Kun is stated to be friendly to the Conference idea, and Wu feels that popular opinion, as well as a large proportion of official sentiment, is with him. This includes, according to good authority, the tacit approval of General Chen Chuin-ming which, it is hoped, will ultimately be converted into active support of the Conference idea.

CHEN HOLDS BACK

(Special To The China Press)

Canton, Nov. 7.—As a result of the conference between Dr. Sun Yat-sen and General Chen Chiung-ming at Wuchow it was decided that General Chen's troops will not participate in the northern campaign for the next these measures.

General Chen, however, will be responsible for the matter of reinforcements, munitions, etc. He has returned to Canton to make plans for carrying out ing out these measures.

SZECHUEN PLANS ATTACK

Changsha, Nov. 7.—Chao Heng-ti has come to an arrangement with the Szechuenese regarding the fight against the North. Szechuen will commence an attack and Hunan will suddenly rise against the Northerners posted in the latter province. The Hunan-Hupeh struggle will shortly be recommenced. Troops are patrolling the city of Yochow very strictly.

CHANG TO HELP

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Nov. 5.—General Chang Tso-lin has expressed the intention to send General Chang Tsung-chang, with the newly organised 30th division, to Kiangsi to assist General Chen Kuang-yuan against the attack which is threatened by the Canton expedition.

The advance guards of the Canton forces are reported to have reached the borders of Kiangsi and Hunan, and General Chang Tso-lin considers that immediate assistance should be given to General Chen.

It will not be forgotten by the people of Kiangsi, however, that when General Chang Tsung-chang was last in Kiangsi, in command of the 1st Division he was charged with having collected money by force and that his troops were disbanded at the request of the people of Kiangsi.

It is thought that General Chang Tso-lin could not have made a worse choice in selecting an officer to command reinforcements for Kiangsi, one more calculated to turn the people against General Chen Kuang-yuan.

WU BLAMES SUN

(China Press Correspondence)

Hankow, Nov. 3.—The irreconciliable attitude of Dr. Sun Yat-sen has been largely reponsible for the recent fighting in so many quarters in China and all worthy attempts at reunion of the divided China were so sadly frustrated just because Sun Yat-sen is uncompromising and madly arrogant. This is the simple reply given by Wu Pei-fu to a British friend in an interview yesterday morning.

Wu Pei-fu began by saying that nothing would be wanting on his part to bring about order and union out of the present chaotic state in China, but Dr. Sun Yat-sen has been standing in the path to reunion, presenting the greatest obstacle for the foundation of a united China. Dr. Sun Yat-sen only pretends to be pursuing the same ends as himself, said Wu, while in reality he repeatedly created troubles in the country, and premptorarily refused any understanding with others.

Dr. Sun Yat-sen, continued Wu Pei-fu, is planning an invasion of Hunan Kiangsi under the aggressive name of a "Northern expedition against Peking!" If Sun Yat-sen persists in the present course, he is sure to suffer in the end. Wu said he was determined to attack him and leave no effort unemployed for his complete suppression.

FIVE PROVINCES TO CONFER WITH SUN AS TO WAR

(Eastern News Agency)

Canton, Nov. 6.—As a result of an interview at Wuchow between Dr. Sun and General Chen Chiung-ming, it has been decided that a military conference is to be held there, which will be attended by representatives of Shensi, Kweichow, Yunnan, Hunan and Szechuen.

General Hsu Chung-chih is, it is said, unable to attend the conference owing to his illness, but General Wei Pang-ping, General Li Lieh-chun and General Tang Chi-yao are expected to join the gathering.

After the completion of the Wuchow conference, Dr. Sun will go to Kweilin, where he will make necessary preparations for the punitive expedition against the North. Dr. Sun is also contemplating, according to the rumor here, to establish the headquarters of the Southern troops at Kweilin and to give commands to the combined troops of the Southwest in the capacity of the generalissimo.

In the meantime, the Mingtung Party have a resolution to effect a coup d'etat on the present occasion; that is to say, they intended to take an alternative whether they be beaten and be compelled to make a flight abroad or they crush the militarists of the North and effect the unification of the whole country at a stretch.

With regard to ammunition, they have already arranged to obtain the supply from a certain quarter through the good offices of a certain Tuchun. In order to hold General Chen Kuang-yuan, Tuchun of Kiangsi, in check, it has been decided to make General Lu Yung-hsiang, Tuchun of Chekiang, bear the brunt of it. The report from Shanghai that General Li Hou-chi, Tuchun of Fukien, has come to the conclusion to assist the North, and that General Hsu Chung-chi has undertaken to subjugate the Tuchun of Fukien, is regarded here as propaganda of the North.

CHIHLI TO MEET

(China Press Correspondence)

Peking, Nov. 3.—A three-day conference will be held in Paotingfu to which all the important military men of the Chihli party are invited. It will be held on November 17 and last until November 19 and will be under the leadership of General Pao Kun.

It had already been decided to hold this conference on October 16, say the Chinese sources, but owing to his preoccupation with the Szechuenese up the Yangtsze River, General Wu Pei-fu was unable to be present and the conference was put off to the present date.

Among the questions that will be discussed will be those relating to the Central Government, the unification of the country, and the two provinces of Hunan and Hupeh, as well as the defination of the spheres of authority between the Chihli and Fengtien parties.

Admiral Line Makes Fast Silk Deliveries

Reports of two fast silk shipments to New York were received by cable yesterday at the local offices of the Admiral Line, the cargo having been carried by the steamers Hawkeye State and Keystone State.

The shipment carried by the Hawkeye State which sailed from Shanghai for San Francisco on October 5 arrived in New York November 1.

Detailed information received regarding the Keystone State's silk cargo gives evidence of gratifying co-operation on the part of the railways on the coast in getting shipments to New York in fast time. Silk shipped on the Keystone State, which left here September 16, was carried from Seattle to New York in 94 hours, 45 minutes, actual rail transit time
